CROWNED EXCELLENCE

Miss Northwestern 1993-1994
Khan Nyugen

"What were your thoughts during the coronation and how did you feel after being named Miss Northwestern?"

"The major fear I had during the coronation was that I would trip and fall on my face while walking up the stage.

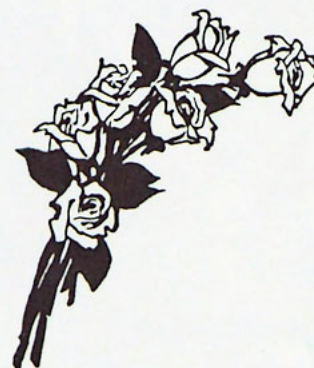

"When I heard my name called as Miss Northwestern, I really did not know what to think. I can't say I was overly excited or deeply humbled. It was more of a 'What have I gotten myself into now' feeling. (Please, don't misunderstand me, I know I didn't get myself in [to] this situation.)

"This is a huge honor though. Sometimes I sit in temporary disbelief. God has really blessed me with many opportunities to share about how wonderful He is and about all the great things He does.

"My main hope in all this is that God's name would be glorified. (And that I don't spill plum sauce on my dresses)"

The royal court pays homage to the new Miss Northwestern, Khan Nyugen.

Eagle fans entered Riley gym on September 30th, making the transformation from subdued scholars to energized pep-fest on-lookers. The crowd's adrenaline surged in anticipation of the nights up-coming events.

The band played and the cheerleaders cheered, both adding to the hype of the moment. Next, the cross country team performed a skit and the soccer team "did the huddle-thing." Members of the football team followed, giving us the low-down on the upcoming games, ending their skit with the Homecoming game's projected score and also with the freshman members presenting an appreciation rose to the cheerleaders for all of their hard work. Finally, came the long-awaited fish eating contest. The returning champ, Phil Diers, once again won the title by inhaling thirteen wiggly, slimy, smelly, scaly goldfish, which was a mere drop in the bucket compared to last year's amount.

Spectators left the gym completely wired and ready for Saturday's events. This was the beginning of a spectacular homecoming weekend.

HOMECOMING'S GREATEST

The 1993-94 Homecoming was celebrated in western style. Although the traditional "spirit week" was not included in the activities, there were many fun-filled festivities that took its place and enticed Northwestern to get "pumped up" for Homecoming week. The Pepfest succeeded in getting everyone excited for Saturday's sports' competitions, and Steve Camp ushered in the weekend with a convicting and very meaningful concert on Friday night. Saturday evening concluded with a western style banquet at which many NWC alumni were in attendance. You could feel the excitement in the air as both students and staff participated in and enjoyed Homecoming week. From the coronation to the kick-off, NWC celebrated Homecoming 1993-94 in style.

The Pepfest crowd anticipates goldfish gulping.

GOING FORTH FOR GOD

Northwestern College Missions

God's continuing faithfulness on the Mission Field.

This past summer many individual Northwestern College students and three mission teams went forth for God. They built numerous relationships as ambassadors for Christ serving all over the world: here and abroad. These missionaries touched people's lives and in return the people touched their lives. During these trips, God stretched students and advisors alike proving He is always there with them. In each of the three mission teams, God protected and guided the teams. While in Honduras, a student lost her passport and was miraculously allowed to leave there and enter the United States. The Eastern European team was delayed several times creating unexpected opportunities to witness in different ways. In London, the Ireland team avoided being in the middle of a bomb scare by taking a taxi to the airport instead of the subway.

Each of these experiences are examples of God's faithfulness. If each one of us is faithful in doing God's work, He will guide and protect us.

.6 Professor Black: "Outstanding Teacher of the Year, 1992-93"

Being a faculty member of Northwestern College provides a unique opportunity to build relationships with students. One of the greatest joys I have is to see students develop throughout their years here and to imagine all the wonderful ways that God will be able to use them. Beyond that, I also grow as a person as I interact with students. I feel truly privileged to be furthering God's kingdom, serving my Lord, in a career I enjoy.

STAFF

PAST & PRESENT PERSPECTIVES

Mr. Wayne Benedict: Associate Professor of Greek and the Director of Student Housing.

"When Northwestern reopened in 1972, there were about two hundred students. Our relationship with the students was close. We knew most of the students on a first name basis and played softball with them. Also, the changes that have occurred have come about gradually. There is not much difference between the students of 1972 and today's students which has made Northwestern a beautiful place to work all these years."

Dr. Clyde Billington: Assistant Professor of History.

"The student's attitudes are very good and as a group, Northwestern students are outstanding. I like the Christian fellowship of the faculty and students. I also enjoy guiding and impacting students' lives for Christ. Students will graduate from Northwestern and help evangelize the world for Christ."

Ms. Barbara Lindman is the Dean of Instructional Programs. Both Mr. Benedict and Ms. Lindman have been at NWC since the reopening here in 1972.

"Since Northwestern was not accredited, the students that came in 1972 came by faith that the institution would succeed. I have stayed here because of the evidence of God's hand at work in the growth of the college. Through the last two decades, it is obvious that God is involved. The campus has changed dramatically and that's what makes it interesting."

Mrs. Glennie: Assistant Professor of Business and English. Dr. Billington and Mrs. Glennie are newly hired faculty members this year.

"The students here at Northwestern are very upbeat, and full of hope for the future. They become aggressive once they have a vision of where they are going. It is exciting to see that spark ignite and the fire it becomes in their lives."

WHAT IN THE WORLD ?

1993-1994

"I don't have anything else to prove," said Michael Jordan as he announced his retirement last week.

More than 160,000 young Roman Catholics from around the world greeted the Pope on his visit to Denver to mark World Youth Day.

The worst wildfires in recent history burned across six Southern California counties, causing more than $500 million in damages.

FROM GOOD GUYS TO WARLORD-HUNTERS: The nation's humanitarian mission to Somalia turned violent when the U.S. role there changed—prompting a call for the return home of our troops.

Climbing to raise funds for a cure, nine students take on McKinley.

THE FLOODS:
Record rainfalls caused rivers in the Midwest to crest and inundate homes and farmland, but the disaster also reminded us of the American capacity for resilience and cooperation.

GIVE PEACE A CHANCE:
Old enemies Yitzhak Rabin, prime minister of Israel, and PLO chairman Yasir Arafat pledged to end the bloodshed in their region and establish limited Palestinian self-rule.

Baby Jessica was caught in a legal tug-of-war between the rights of biological and adoptive parents.

The driver of the Honda survived the crash, but a California policeman lost his life, driving his motorcycle off the freeway.

Firemen crawling into the collapsed first floor at Northridge Meadows discovered that the quake crushed many in their sleep.

Just 15 minutes after the first shock early Monday morning, a frightened family huddled on Hollywood Boulevard.

They all take different paths to get there, but they meet at the same final destination.

Walking away from Northwestern College,
the graduating class of 1994 is ready to enter into the world equipped to influence their new surroundings.

They will go where their education & experience have prepared them to go. But they will be different. They will bring with them not only facts and figures, but a heart knowledge of the Lord.

That is what makes a Northwestern graduate special.
That is why as the graduating seniors venture off into a new chapter of their lives, they will always keep with them a sense of belonging to Northwestern College
and to their class.

WHERE DO YOU SEE YOURSELF IN FIVE YEARS?

"In five years, I see myself being out of graduate school for about a year, coming upon my 5th anniversary of marriage, starting my career as a Physical Therapist and possibly living in a new state such as Colorado."

Eric "Barty" Bartush

"Reporting news at a medium market T.V. station in Idaho, Colorado or Washington. Probably spending weekends at Rodeos and still looking for a guy who knows how to treat a lady!"

Tina Kraus

"I'll finally be done with school and my Masters in Physical Therapy. I want to work in a clinic in Arizona where it is warm and I can finally get a tan!"

Neil Tsuji

"I'll be a good house wife and a great mom to Erik and my two future children. I will also finally have learned how to cook like his mom—a true farmer's wife!"

Jill Bjurlin

WHAT HAS NWC GIVEN YOU IN ALL THE YEARS YOU HAVE STUDIED HERE TO TAKE INTO THE "REAL WORLD?"

"NWC has given to me a husband of character and integrity, a quality education, friends and memories that will last a lifetime. It has given me a greater love and understanding of the Lord and His purpose for my life."

Heather Lewis

"Northwestern has given me the ability to respect other people's opinions and beliefs. I came here pretty set in my ways and I found that I was forced to really find out why I believe the way I do. NWC gave me the knowledge to know where to go to find that out. That's why I came here."

Matt "Hoppy" Grose

"Northwestern has given me the opportunity to get a biblical perspective on secular issues. As a future teacher, I feel that NWC has taught me to develop Christian ideals in my teaching methods—to bring into the teaching society and public schools."

Gail Wilson

WHAT OR WHOM HAS BEEN YOUR FAVORITE CLASS OR MOST MEMORABLE PROFESSOR AND WHY?

"David L. Johnson has been my most memorable professor because he made me really think about what I was learning in his class. Poetry of all things!"

Pat Budnick

"Creative Writing with Dr. Wendler has been my favorite class. It was like breathing in sunshine in the midst of a dusty quarter."

Wendy Cobbett

"Dr. Port is my most memorable professor because he is very energetic, fun and highly respected. He expects the best out of his students and brings out the best in people."

Julie I. Anderson

You can tell by the looks on their faces and the intensity in their eyes that Northwestern athletes are different.
Each athlete knows that the minute that they step onto the court,
run onto that field,
or sprint from those blocks they become a representative for Northwestern and a witness for Christ.
It is here, at Northwestern College, where an athlete strives to play their best for one reason—for Him.

*Barry Quernemoen
Golf Club Captain*

Barry has been playing golf since his sophomore year in high school. He got his start when his father received golf clubs for Father's Day. His father didn't play golf, so Barry decided that he would give the game of golf a chance.

Barry felt some pressure to lead the team every time they went out and competed. Overall, it was a great experience for him, and he highly recommends it to other students interested in the sport of golf.

Barry summed up by saying, "The thing that I find most rewarding about golf is that no matter who you are with or how old you are, you can engage in competition that is healthy and fun. Also, virtually every hole on every golf course is different in some form or another. Every hole is unique!"

All gifts of imagination, expression, and performance have originated in our Creator. At Northwestern College we believe that as God gave of His best in Jesus Christ, we are to joyfully return our best in all we do.

Since Northwestern's founding in 1902, performing arts have been an integral part of the College. That tradition continues, for today over one-third of Northwestern students participate in some sort of performing arts.

More than either an artistic discipline or vocation, performance whether in music or drama, is a testimony of lives redeemed by Jesus, telling others of His love.

Performing Arts

It was He who gave some to be apostles, some to be prophets, some to be evangelists, and some to be pastors and teachers, to prepare God's people for works of service, so that the body of Christ may be built up until we all reach unity in the faith and in the knowledge of the Son of God and become mature, attaining to the whole measure of the fullness of Christ.

These dedicated students' unique blend of music and drama creates an effective program for outreach and music.

Organizations at Northwestern College play an integral part in each student's college experience. It is the gathering of dedicated students to accomplish tasks outside of the classroom that enrich everyone who participates.

Organizations can expand on lessons learned in the classroom and offer experiences in professional and social atmosphere's. These organizations contribute to the unity felt across campus, and groups organized for the college assist in providing a friendly, fun environment for all students.

Northwestern creates an opportunity for students to experience a holistic education by combining academia with organization participation.

Organizations

Then we will no longer be infants, tossed back and forth by the waves, and blown here and there by every wind of teaching and by the cunning and craftiness of men in their deceitful scheming.

EQUIPPING THE SAINTS

"The Equipping the Saints group met weekly to discover God's vision for their lives and to study and apply the spiritual disciplines including daily quiet times, prayer, evangelism, and Scripture memory. The group sought to apply what was learned through various evangelistic outreaches. The lessons provided ample opportunity for stimulating discussion and the group setting encouraged accountability leading to spiritual growth."

-Stuart Cripe

Those involved in the Equipping the Saints were Aaron Beker, Joe Dorale, Kalyn Eriksmoen, Sandy Farmsworth, Jamie Galioto, Brandon Kjelland, Terje Skjerkl, Gail Wilson and Stuart Cripe.

NAVIGATORS

"The aim of the Navigators is to help fulfill the Great Commission by multiplying laborers for Christ in every nation. The Navigators emphasize three things: Evangelism-on nearby campuses; Discipleship in depth-accountability groups; Fellowship-group and individual relationships."

NETWORKS HITS THE STREETS

The Northwestern Evangelism Team traveled to inner-city Minneapolis to witness and share God's word to spiritually handicapped people. NetWorks met Friday evenings in the Students Center Chapel for a time of prayer before ministering to people on the streets. The students would split up into two groups. The first group would visit the uptown area to share their testimonies while the other group would lend a listening ear to the people of Hard Times Cafe. David Wynn says, "The main goal is to reach out to people, talk to them to see what they are interested in." A variety of NWC students sacrificed their Friday evenings to witness at bus stops, book stores, street corners, restaurants, and Calhoun Square.

STUDENT VENTURE SATURATES HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Student Venture is a ministry of Campus Crusade for Christ. "The organization recruits college students in order to saturate high school campuses and to win students to Christ," says Janet Lecy. Student Venture is a volunteer program which trains and equips college students for leadership. NWC students involved with Student Venture met in various homes, community centers, and creative places to teach the Word of God in Bible studies.

SMF USES PRAYER AS A TOOL TO SUPPORT MISSIONARIES

The Student Missions Fellowship was focused on prayer and raising support for Urbana and various summer mission trips. One of the ways SMF raised money was due to their usual offerings in SMF chapels. SMF members also handed out cards for students to pledge a certain amount of money to give throughout the year. The organization's goal was to raise $20,000. SMF meetings were held biweekly and consisted of learning more about particular ministries. Prayer played the most important role in the group's meetings.

FCA LIFE IS FUN AND GAMES

Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a group of college and previous high school athletes who met together for a time of fun and fellowship. The organization allows students to spend time playing games, watching videos, and sharing with one another once a week. "The main goal of Fellowship of Christian Athletes was to develop a sense of togetherness in Christian love in order to better serve the community for Christ's sake," said FCA leader Kyle Bendorf. The first annual FCA volleyball tournament, prayer, various rallies, and sporting activities were the slate of events for the group.

UGM TEAM BREAKS DOWN BARRIERS

The Union Gospel Mission Team visited homeless people while the Nursing Home Team visited people at their residences and at rest homes throughout the school year. The main goal of the organization was to get college students to inspire the elderly. "However, homeless people aren't all stupid, they minister to us while we minister to them," said Chris Carson. The agenda of each meeting consisted of singing hymns, special music, prayer, sharing, and a short message from God's Word. After each service, the students were encouraged to mingle with some of the people to raise their spirits. Fellowship was one of the most important aspects of the organization.

GET WIRED FOR SOUND

WITH WVOE

Northwestern student radio WVOE switched over from A.M. radio to 107.5 on your F.M. dial for the 1993-94 school year. While preparing broadcasting students for the "real world" of radio, WVOE deejays rocked the campus each weekday evening with a few hours of contemporary Christian music. Students in the dorms and south campus were kept informed on the latest weather, news, sports, and contemporary Christian concerts. Also, there was time in the evening for special requests by the listeners. Each deejay, or pair of deejays, added a dash of thier own spice to WVOE.

A NOSE FOR NEWS

The NWC Report is a student ran newscast which is put together by an All-Star cast of Northwestern students. NWC Report was presented by the broadcasting department of Northwestern College. This thirty-minute news program focuses on local and community events. Serving the surrounding communities, the NWC Reports' staff consisted of several students ranging from freshmen to seniors. Each staff member was in charge of writing at least one news story per week, and also was expected to interact with the community to create an electronic news gathering package that dealt with a local newsworthy event.

PSALM 47:7

"FOR GOD IS THE KING OF ALL THE EARTH; SING TO HIM A PSALM OF PRAISE."

The worship team at NWC plays a vital part in the students' lives. The team leads the student body first by reading a passage of scripture, and then by singing songs that pertain to that certain passage, while everyone joins in. There is nothing better than listening to so many different voices raised together to uplift the name of God, in one perfect harmony. Lord, we love you!

Anyone want a study break? Why not attend the JAM (Jesus and Me) session? JAM is a student led praise, prayer, and worship time. Many students share concerns in their lives, while others praise God for something that He has done for them. It is also a time when a person can really feel the spirit of the Lord occupying the space around him or her.

Melissa Paulson, Christine Skogerboe, and Monika Sawall are enjoying Thursday night's JAM session.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS: What is to become of South Campus?

Demolition has begun on Paul's Place in Roseville to make way for a multi-million dollar project that includes two senior citizen housing complexes and a 57-room motel. The senior development will be called EagleCrest and will include a seven-story, 127-unit apartment building as well as a three-story, 91-unit assisted living facility. The motel will be a franchise of Country Inn & Suites by Carlson under separate management. Dr. Don Erickson, president of Northwestern College, said the three acres on the corner of Lydia and Snelling will remain a part of the College campus and be known as the South Campus. The garage on the corner will be leased to a master mechanic while the College awaits final word on an environmental study. Adding the motel and senior housing complex will also offer Northwestern students numerous employment opportunities in a variety of areas and possible careers.

South Campus is a 23-unit co-ed upper classman residence.

BIBLE STUDIES

A few students bowing in reverence while praying to an awesome God.

An NWC student listens intently to prayer requests.

Jeremy Eby on discovering my spiritual gifts:
"I wanted to grow spiritually, and I learned what my gifts are."

Michelle Selk on becoming a Woman of Excellence:
"I learned what God wanted a woman to be like and what we can do to work towards being a Godly woman."

Tameron Richardson on becoming a Woman of Faith:
"I learned about faith and all that it involves."

Leslie Warner and Annette Leandu listen intently to the message presented.

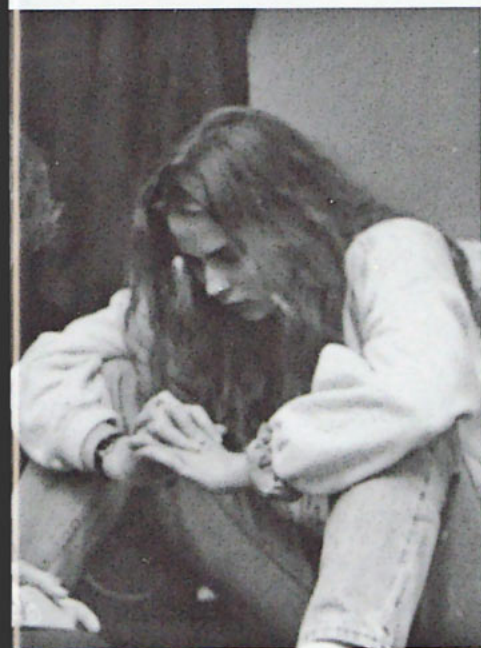

One of the best ways for students to grow spiritually at NWC is by getting involved in one of the many Bible studies on campus. Each group covers a different topic, providing students with a variety of opportunities to challenge and encourage each other while studying the Word. New topics were offered every quarter and were led by students, staff, and alumni.

These were some of the Bible studies offered:

Fall quarter: Becoming a Woman of Freedom, Discovering Your Spiritual Gifts, Growth Group, Men's Discipleship, A Study on Christian Tasks, A Study on David: Becoming a person after God's own heart.

Winter quarter: Developing Christ-Centered Male/Female Relationships, Inductive Bible Study, Mirror Image: a study from Colossians on reflecting God's beauty, Passion and Purity, Equipping the Saints, Becoming a Woman of Excellence, Developing a Deeper Commitment to Christ. The F.A.T. Men's Club was offered all year.

PRAYER ZONES

The goal of every Northwestern student should be a strong prayer life!

The major emphasis of prayer zones is exemplified by Melody Bergan.

A major part of the Christian life is prayer. Prayer Zones were created to help students deepen their faith, to experience the power of prayer, and to witness answers to their prayer. Students met in small groups for a half hour once a week. There was one prayer zone per resident assistant for Hartill and one for Moyer residences.

Shane Klippens,
 Prayer Zone leader,
"I was able to learn and grow spiritually with other guys."

Jeremy MacKinney,
 Prayer Zone leader,
"It is a great time to get together and pray as a student body. It is very interesting to see how things develop as the year progresses."

NWC STUDENTS TAKE THE REINS

Student leaders at NWC aid Student Development and the Vice President of College affairs, so that they are more in touch with the students," says Student Body President John Worden. NWC student leadership consists of the following major groups: Administrative Council, Student Senate, and Resident Assistance.

The NWC President and Vice President of Student Senate are essential ingredients of student leadership. President Worden acts as chief administrator and represents the students concerns to the chairman of the Board. Vice President, Carolyn Marty, assumes leadership in many on-campus activities.

Resident Assistants, or R.A.'s are available to provide immediate leadership to students living in the residences. R.A.'s and R.D.'s go through various interviews with Student Development before assuming their positions. "R.A.'s provide friendship and a way for students to have a voice in decisions. An R.A. is a friend, representative and helps in time of needs," states R.A. Andrew Nathan.

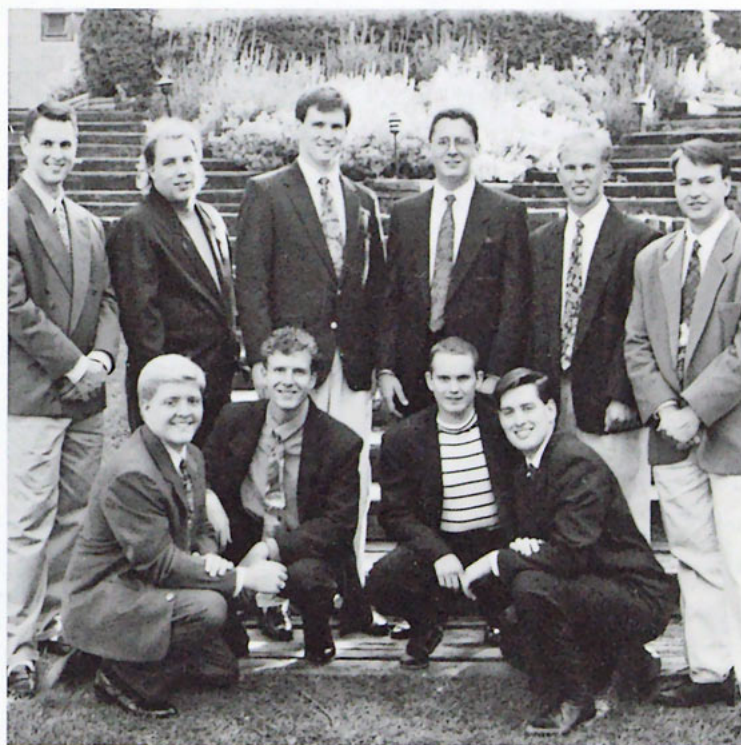

Every student leader learns to stretch themselves and learn through other people.

SENIORS

As Freshman, we walk through the halls as scared, unknowing college students in a new and unfamiliar environment. We have the world at our feet, and our futures are yet to be discovered.

As Sophomores, we relish in the familiarity of grounds well tread. We return to old friends and look forward to the new. As our futures wane a bit more clear, we step with confident feet into adulthood.

As Juniors, we see the light at the end of the tunnel. Our classes dig deeper, our study lengthens, and our relationships mature with us. We begin to become sentimental as we realize that Northwestern has become our home.

These are the best years of our life. These are the moments to remember. These are the times to look back upon with smiles, laughter, and sometimes even tears.

"My most memorable moment was catching two touchdowns passes in the Metrodome. I had always dreamed of playing football in the dome, but to catch those passes was a step above that dream."
-Peter Moland, Freshman

"I'll never forget the many pranks we pulled. For instance, we got busted hanging the picture of Edwin Hartill from the Student Center on some girls' door during non-coed hours. Pretty Rowdy!"
-Chris Montbriand, Sophomore

"My missions trip to Tijuana during Spring Break 1993. I'll never forget the night when us girls grabbed hands and ran into the Pacific Ocean with all of our clothes on!"
-Jennifer Buck, Junior

"Quad 7. Jocks, singers, actors, writers, and teacher 'wanna-be's!' Friendships were made comparable to sisters. We were definitely hand picked by God!"
-Jen Downie, 5-year plan Senior

Many people have helped and contributed to make our 1993-1994 Scroll last a lifetime. Throughout the entire production, a rookie staff and advisor have worked long hours in their desire to produce a quality, enjoyable and memory-filled yearbook.

First, a special thank you to advisor Dale Lewis who offered advice, understanding, and encouragement. Second, my appreciation to the entire Scroll staff for their hard work, open minds, dedication, and great attitudes. Their ideas, time and hearts made this book possible.

It was our desire and goal to create a yearbook that glorified the Lord. We looked at every page as a representation of what Northwestern College stands for and is. We hope you enjoy reflecting on these Scroll moments as they remind us all of our lasting experiences at Northwestern College.

Mel Johnson, chairman of the Northwestern College Board, welcomes the audience to a night of celebration and worship.

Rhapsody in Praise, directed by Dick Anthony, created an outstanding concert that they took on the road for seven performances. Their two final concerts took place in Marantha Hall on April 8 and 9.

Rhapsody consisted of 20 vocalists, a 30-piece orchestra, and a technical crew.

The concerts were made up of five sections: Celebrate Creation and the Creator, Celebrate the Cross and the Crucified, Celebrate in Prayer, and Praise and Celebrate the Future!

Rhapsody in Praise was a wonderful concert that encouraged and uplifted many people from both the College and community. Well done performers!

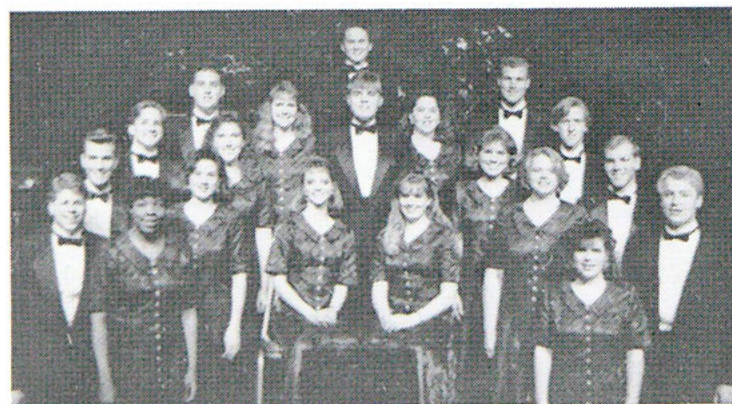

The Rhapsody singers lift up the name of the Lord while the orchestra accompanies them.

2ND ANNUAL POLAR BEAR PLUNGE

If you can't beat a Minnesota winter, you might as well join it. That's the philosophy behind the plunge. This year's event featured Northwestern's heartiest men and one woman who drilled a hole in the ice and took a dive into the icy waters of Lake Johanna. "Our goal was to get in and out as fast as we can," said Nathan Powell who helped organize the event in conjunction with the Youth Conference. "It's a good way to show the visiting high school students how much fun we have."

Who's this mystery woman with beautiful form?

Student Speaker, Carolyn Marty, gave an encouraging speech during the graduation ceremony. She encouraged the graduates to take the hardships and successes that they have experienced in their years at Northwestern and learn from them as they venture into the "real world." The vice president of the NWSA eloquently disclosed her fears as she looks into her own future, and many of the graduates could relate to those insecurities. But she encouraged the graduates to wait on the Lord and trust in His sovereignty.

INTO THE FUTURE

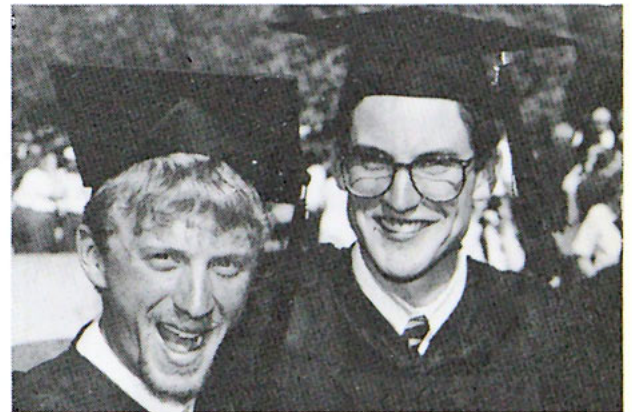

A familiar face on the stage of Maranatha, John Worden gave the graduates a sense of closure on their graduation day. Selected by his peers, John gave a sincere farewell to Northwestern and challenged the graduates to trust in the Lord as they look for jobs, start families, and begin this new stage in their lives. John, the NWSA president, gave the graduating class of 1994 a sense of encouragement and a vision to be stewards for the Lord. He gave tribute to Northwestern for forming and molding graduates that will make a change in the world.

before him endured the cross, scorning its shame, and sat down at the right hand of the throne of God."

Hebrews 12:2

May 21, 1994, was a beautiful, warm, and sunny day that marked the beginning of their lives beyond the gates of Northwestern for 212 graduates. The halls buzzed with excitement as the black robed graduates anxiously awaited their ceremonial walk down the aisles of Maranatha Auditorium. These familiar halls now took on a different look and feeling for many of the graduates. The numerous years of education that these buildings held for the graduates seemed to hold a different, almost somber, feeling as many bid a fond farewell to the halls of Northwestern. They would be graduating and making their next step into adulthood. Many futures were unknown and many questions had gone unanswered, but there was one thing they all had in common: a loving Father that would take care of them and their futures.

Dr. Donald North, the 1994 graduation speaker, affirmed this feeling as he shared with the graduates his heartfelt testimony. Dr. North told about his abusive childhood that was void of any love and encouragement. He told how one of his Sunday school teachers showed him God's love and how that made all of the difference in his life. His story made the graduates understand that what they do and how they do it can make a life-changing difference in someone's life and future. How Dr. North overcame great odds through Christ alone was an encouraging example for the graduates, faculty, and guests present at the graduation ceremony. His story and where he is today is a witness as to the grace, power, and unconditional love of the Lord when we trust him. He left the graduates with hope: "Trust in the Lord with all of your heart, soul, and mind, and He will provide for you."

"Try and catch this one guys!" Kim Williams smiles with determination.

An Eagle runner flies into homeplate but is called out.

Junior, Kim Williams, is in her third year of softball here at Northwestern. She has a double major in Youth Ministries and Christian Education. Growing up with four brothers sparked her interest in softball, and she now has nine years experience.

One of Kim's most memorable plays was during her freshman year at NWC. The bases were loaded and she was on third, the batter was to bunt the ball and Kim was to run as fast as possible toward homeplate. Kim ran safely home and tied the game against Bethel 4 to 4.

When asked how the team stayed so unified during practices and games, Kim told us that their number one goal as a team is to be "players for Christ" on and off the field. "It is important to have prayer before and after the game, as well as during their daily lives."

Kim's favorite sports star is Sterling Sharpe from the Green Bay Packers. It is not because I like the team (she is from Illinois), but because of the kind of player he is. "No matter what happens, he always has a smile on his face, even if he just made a bad play. He's got a great attitude! I love that!"

Sweet display of pitching form, Cory!

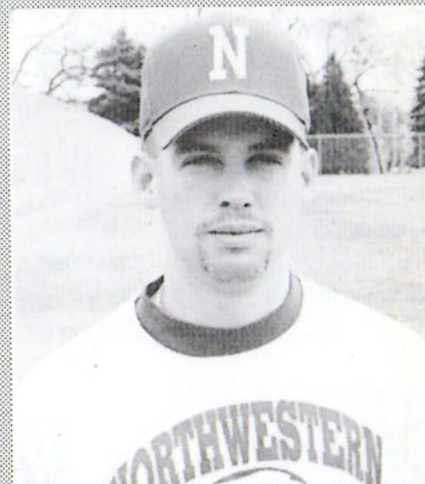

Dave Ostercamp gives a 110 percent to make a save near the first base line.

Pat Budnick slides feet-first into third base.

Tod Bocken initiates another inning—ending play at third base.

Aric Roeller, a senior on the Eagle's baseball squad, believes the '94 season should prove to be successful. After the first few games, the new recruits have shown the ability to turn the team around and assist in making it a winning season. This year's team is relaxed before a game. There is a comfortable atmosphere in the dugout and all the players are very supportive of each other.
